SOUTHERN NEVADA ASSOCIATION OF PRIDE AND EDGE MEDIA NETWORK ANNOUNCE FREE LAS VEGAS PRIDE APP AVAILABLE FOR IPHONE

August 27, 2012, Las Vegas, Nevada: The Southern Nevada Association of PRIDE, Inc. (SNAPI) announced today that the official Las Vegas Gay PRIDE iOS App is now available as a free download from the iTunes App Store. The app, a joint development effort with EDGE Media Network, will allow iPhone, iPod Touch and iPad users to view up-to-the-minute information about Las Vegas' annual Gay PRIDE Parade, Festival and associated events.

"We're thrilled to launch this new app," said Ernest Yuen, president of Southern Nevada Association of PRIDE, Inc. "It ups the ante on interactive Gay Pride apps with a host of new, fun features."

The app includes news stories, event listings, interactive maps, sponsor and hotel listings, plus photos from official photographers and revelers at the yearly event. Developer EDGE Media Network is the largest network of local Lesbian, Gay Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT) news and entertainment portals in the world, serving about 1 million dedicated readers from a variety of metropolitan areas around the United States and beyond.

"Gay Pride is going mobile," asserted David Foucher, chief executive officer of EDGE. "These new platforms bring information and interactivity directly to the LGBT public who are celebrating at Las Vegas PRIDE; they can upload their own photos and get late breaking news. We're thrilled to launch this innovative product with the Southern Nevada Association of PRIDE, Inc., and we can't wait to see how Las Vegas takes the party to their phones."

Las Vegas PRIDE includes a variety of social events already underway, and the celebration culminates in a nighttime parade on September 7th and a festival on September 8th. The iOS app is immediately available for iOS mobile devices from the iTunes App Store.
